NITED STATES WILL SEND ARMED FORCE TO FRANCE AS SOON AS IT IS POSSIBLE

Administration Offers Army as Soon as It Can be Transported.

GENERAL STAFF OPPOSED

Each Mission and State Department Officials Urge Such a Step for the Moral Effect It Will Have on Both Belligerents; Little German News.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Despite the objection of the general staff of putting American armed forces on the front line before the great war army is raised and trained, President Wilson has decided to send a small contingent, such as the French mission has requested, to France, as soon as the force can be transported without affecting food supplies.

Whether this force will be made up of trained regulars or the national mobilization is uncertain. The subject was discussed at a conference yesterday between Secretary Baker and President Wilson, although it was not taken up at the Cabinet meeting.
State Department officials have agreed compliance with the French mission's request for an armed force solely for the effect in encouraging the Allied troops and to discourage the Germans. The opposition of the mobilization staff to this move is strong.

PREPARE FOR A LONG WAR—LANE

Secretary Tells Governors It is a Mistake to Predict an Early Victory Over Germans.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Secretary Lane told the governors conference today with the Council of National Defense on the part states will take in the war that the federal government had heard 400,000 tons of hemp had been sunk in the last week by German submarines.

The destruction, he said, was not only threatening the existence of England and France but was alarming the United States. Study of in-entions to combat the submarine was being diligently pursued in the interior department, he said.

"The United States must build ships as rapidly as possible," he told the legislators. "If we don't fight the war on the other side, we shall have to fight it on this side of the Atlantic."

Secretary Lane declared he believed the war would last several years and that every source of the country must be brought into play to bring it to a successful conclusion.
"Many persons thought," said Secretary Lane, "that all we had to do was to issue bonds and that Germany would bow her head in submission.
Nothing could be farther from the truth. We do not know when this war will end. It may not be a one year war. Personally I believe it will last several years. Herbert C. Hoover has told this government that Germany had food enough to last two years, perhaps longer. Germany has put up the greatest fight of history and she has the advantage of now fighting a defensive warfare. Don't go back home and inspire your people with the thought that immediate action can bring this war to an immediate end.
Your people must look to this year's crops and next year's crops and the next year after that. We can't afford to fail in this war. Every man in this country is involved in this war and every man in the country is a soldier.
The French hope to break down the morale of the German army. Our care is to see to it that our own morale rises."

WANTS WAR INSURANCE TO INCLUDE MERCHANT SAILORS

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Secretary McAdoo has recommended to Congress that the powers of the government war risk insurance bureau be enlarged so as to permit the insuring of lives of officers and men on merchant ships.

Ability or loss of life would be placed within $1,000 and $5,000, with proportionate indemnity for injury.
Owners of all vessels insured by the government would be required to take out insurance on the lives of officers and men.

PLOT TO ENTHRAL U. S. IN WAR WITH MEXICO UNCOVERED

NEW YORK, May 2.—Efforts to enroll this country with Mexico and Japan so as to stop the shipment of munitions to the Entente Allies were, by his own assertion, made by Captain Franz Rintelen of the German navy, according to testimony given here today at his trial on a charge of conspiring with seven other men. Americans, to foment strikes in munition factories and on docks.

The testimony was given by John C.
Hammond, an advertising man, who said Rintelen came to him with a plan to carry on a pro-German publicity campaign.

"I notified Secretary Tammitt and the Department of Justice of the government when things went this far," Mr. Hammond says.

NO NEWS LEAKS OUT FROM GERMANY AS TO RESULTS OF MAY DAY

By Associated Press.
Beyond an officially inspired dispatch from Berlin stating that no disorders occurred in Germany during May Day, the veil of secrecy which has been drawn over the situation in the Central Empires remains unbroken as far as any direct news is concerned. News dispatches from the German front speak of great strikes and rumors pile upon rumors in regard to the growing unrest among the Teutonic nations but there is little that is tangible on which to base judgment. Everything points to a crisis having been reached in the internal affairs of Germany and Austria but the outcome is uncertain.

The demand for internal reform is growing louder and more insistent in Germany and the newspapers are voicing this demand with a boldness never known since the commencement of the war. The one certain thing of significance is that the German government is proceeding to unheard-of measures to prevent the outside world from learning the truth.

It is reported that Chancellor von Bethmann Hollweg will make a new peace offer before the Reichstag tomorrow but this is based entirely on a newspaper statement and lacks detail and confirmation. The storm of criticism against the chancellor is steadily growing in bitterness and from all quarters is heard the demand for a "strong man" to guide Germany through the troubles which beset her.

The great labor demonstration in Sweden, which it was freely predicted might cause grave disturbances, took place without any disorder being reported and one in Austria is declared to have passed peacefully.

On the fighting front in France the deadlock which has existed for some days persists. The results of the French offensive have caused dissatisfaction in Paris and the minister of war will have to face the fire of a number of deputies when Parliament meets later in the month. In England criticism is centered on the administrative, the growing submarine menace rapidly increasing the critics of Sir Edward Carson.

NINE MORE MEMBERS OF VACUUM CREW LANDED

LONDON, May 2.—Nine more members of the crew and Captain S. S.
Harris from the American tanker Vacuum, which was sunk by a German submarine Saturday, have been landed. This makes 27 men saved from a total of 45 aboard the vessel.
Captain Harris wired to the offices of the Vacuum company that he with third mate, E. D. Husted of Mount Vernon, New York, the bantam and six sailors, were picked up by a patrol boat and landed.

LIVERPOOL, May 2.—Captain Harris of the Vacuum said 18 men of his crew were lost. Eight gunners and 16 members of the crew were saved. Lieutenant Thomas, U. S. N., lost his life, according to Captain Harris. The captain also reports that F. H. Love died of exposure after being landed and that A. Donald, C. J.
Fisher and C. F. Luckham were lost.

GERMAN RAIDERS THROWN BACK ON WESTERN FRONT

LONDON, May 2.—Both the artillery forces active during night at a number of points on our front between St. Quentin and Lens," says today's official statement regarding operations on the Franco-Belgian front.

In the neighborhood of Faugisart, a German raiding party was repulsed. Otherwise nothing special occurred.

PATRIOTIC SINKS AMERICAN STEAMER; 18 MEN MISSING

LONDON, May 2.—The American
steamer Rockingham has been sunk by a German submarine. Thirteen men are missing.

Two boats containing 33 men were picked up yesterday by patrol vessel.
One boat containing 13 is missing.

NEW YORK, May 2.—The Americans made several attacks last night on the Alsace front. Today's official announcement says they were partially repulsed by French machine gun fire and grenades. In the Champagne, the French made progress.

U-BOAT SINKS AMERICAN STEAMER; 18 MEN MISSING

LONDON, May 2.—The American
steamer Rockingham has been sunk
by a German submarine. Thirteen
men are missing.

Two boats containing 33 men were
picked up yesterday by patrol vessel.
One boat containing 13 is missing.

NEW YORK, May 2.—The American steamer Rockingham, formerly the Ne- braska, was of 4,08 tons gross. She was built at Camden, N. J., in 1902, and was owned by the Grand Steamship Corporation.

The Rockingham carried guns and a United States naval crew when she left Baltimore.

HOLLWEG'S PEACE SPEECH DECLARED POSTPONED.

HOLMWEG, May 2.—The speech which was to have been made in the Reichstag by Dr. von Bethmann Hollweg, the German chancellor, on peace and international relations, has been postponed to a more fitting occasion, according to word received here.

EXPECT GERMAN PEACE OFFERS

British Mission Thinks Series of Fe-ders Will Be Put Out

By German.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—The British mission expects to be here about 10 days longer. Then the party will leave for New York and possibly for the Middle West. Several experts will probably remain in Washington, to help work out the arrangements agreed upon and to reinforce the staff of the British embassy. Included would probably be shipping, munitions and trade expert.

Today was devoted largely to detailed discussion, especially in following out the shipping suggestions brought out at yesterday's formal conference. Reports of fresh peace offers from Berlin brought fourth the statement from the mission today that a series of feelers were expected during the next few months as an immense amount of quiet peace effort has been under way by Teutonic embassies, especially by Austrians in Berne, but no credence is being placed in their acceptability.

ROBBERS BLOW A SAFE; GET $1,000

First National Bank at Lilly Robbed; Italian Caught Concealing Part of Money.

By Associated Press.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., May 2.—Robbers early today blew the safe in the First National Bank at Lilly, 10 miles from here, and escaped with $1,000 after a running fight with police and townspeople.

An Italian was later captured two miles from the village as he was bidding a bag containing $100 which was identified as part of the money.

The other man escaped.

Dr. Munch who lived over the bank was killed this afternoon while chasing the robbers. His auto overturned on a steep road in the mountain.

LONE BANDIT KILLS SLEEPING PASSENGERS.

SPARTA, Wis., May 2.—A bandit concealed in the rear couch of a train on the Chicago & North Western railroad killed two members of the train crew to stand with their hands above their heads while he rifled the pockets of the sleeping passengers as the train pulled into this station today.

The bandit escaped. Just how much he secured is not known.

TO SEEK PARDONS FOR THREE ALLEGED BANDITS

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 2.—A movement was started here today to obtain Presidential pardons for three men now serving 25 year sentences in the Atlanta federal prison for train robbery, of which another self-confessed robber, Jess Harrison, of the notorious Harrison band, declared in court yesterday he and two others alone were guilty.

Harrison interrupted Federal Judge Clayton, who was imposing a sentence of 25 years in prison for Harrison's robbery of a train at Greenville, Alabama, and in tears told the story of how Harry Marks, Frank Moore and Jonah Williams had been convicted wrongfully of holding up and robbing an Alabama Great Southern train at Beldsbyville, Alabama, September 20, 1916. Harrison said he, Grady Webb and Ben McKee, now in the Atlanta prison, managed the Beldsby robbery.

lives.

PETAIN WILL COMMAND BRITISH AND FRENCH BATTLES IN FRANCE

By Associated Press.

Connellsville figures in the proposed new direct railroad route between Chicago and the Atlantic seaboard, in no small way. The Western Maryland railroad, owned by Rockefeller interests, on Monday purchased the Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad with the intention of using it in linking up Washington and Chicago lines.

The Western Maryland now terminates here but operates into Pittsburgh by a trackage agreement with the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, entered into about four years ago for 99 years. Under the new plan it will connect with the Pittsburgh & West Virginia railroad which will carry it to a connection with the Wheeling & Lake Erie, its new property, at Mingo junction. This will give it three Lake

Errie terminals—Cleveland, Huron and Toledo, the Wheeling road possessing extensive and modern coal handling facilities at all of them.

Various routes have been considered. One is to connect up with the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie at a point near Vanderbilt. The immense slag dump at Nellie is reported to be more than a miles dump.

Another development of the arrangement is the stimulus it will lend to the construction of the Wheeling & Ohio railroad, projected by the

Wheeling Steel & Iron company to be built from that city to a point near Connellsville, to connection with the Western Maryland, which would afford the latter a short route to the river and a connection with the Wheeling & Lake Erie at its eastern terminus. The project has lain dormant certainly one of the best of the season's entertainment. The numbers were entirely from the works of Adolf M. Foerster, Pittsburgh composer, who was himself present. Contracts were awarded late yesterday by the county commissioners for the construction of four bridges to be built this Spring by the county, one of them being the Galley's Run bridge in Upper Tyrone and Connellsville townships. The contract for the Galley's Run bridge was let to Louis Costa of Vanderhill for $2,705.57, the lowest bid.

Mr. Costa will also build the Meadow Run bridge in Wharton township, while the Farris Engineering company of Pittsburgh secured the contracts for the Douglas Creek bridge in Lutzerville and Redstone townships, and for the Middle Run bridge in German township. Bids on the Rowe's Run bridge at Grindstone were rejected and will be readvertised.

At the outbreak of the European war, Jim goes as a captain to France, leaving his wife at the country home of his parents. She soon tires of life in seclusion and craves masculine attention. So as a pastime she entices Jim's younger brother, Cedric. He is an honorable young fellow and at length leaves himself from her and enlists in the army. As a farewell

SISSON THEATRE.

"THE PULSE OF LIFE"—Five reel melodrama, featuring Wedgewood Howell and Gypsy Harte. There is a lesson for girls who are discontented with home surroundings in "The Pulse of Life," to be shown "Bluebird Day" at the Sisson theatre today. The heroine of this purposeful drama was restless and unhappy as the housekeeper for her father and brother in a little fishing village on the Isle of Capri, off the coast of Italy. She would gaze at the passing ships, hour after hour, and fancy wonderful sights in the strange lands beyond the sea. When a designing villain whispered false promises she fell an easy victim to his wiles and lived to regret her hasty and foolish decision to go with him to America. The painful effects of the girl's discontent, the punishment her vengeful brother heaped upon the girl's deceiver and the final outcome of a mad folly will be shown in exciting episodes when Wedgewood Howell, Gypsy Harte, Nicholas Duerew, Millard K. Wilson and Dorothy Barrett picture "The Pulse of Life." Also the famous Universal service will be shown. Tomorrow Clara Kimball Young in the five reel drama "Tribes." Startling, sensational and thrilling are the circumstances which wound themselves around the life story of "Tribes," the pretty model of the Latin Quarter.

CARNIVAL POPULAR

Cool Weather Does Not Keep Crowds Away From West Side Shows.

Unhampered by cool weather and unusual counter attractions, the Rutherford Greater Shows, brought here for the benefit of the New Haven Hose company, are attracting great crowds. The midway was thronged last night and all of the shows were well patronized. The Submarine Girls were still unable to show through some difficulty about their tank, but the management promises that this stellar attraction will be among those present tonight.

The Rutherford shows have all new tops and equipment, thousands of electric lights are strung throughout the grounds and the general character of the enterprise is far superior to most carnivals that have been seen here.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. He has now brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong laxatives. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "loggy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. 10c and 25c a box. All druggists.

For Skin Irritation

There is one safe, dependable treatment that relieves itching torture and skin irritation almost instantly and that cures and soothes the skin.

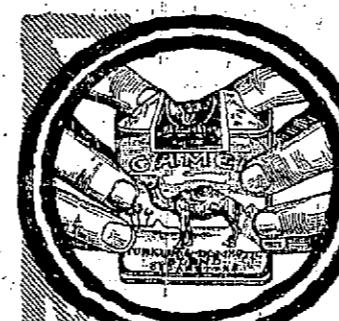

Ask any druggist for a 25c or 51 bottle of zemo and apply it as directed. Soon you will find that irritations, rashes and skin troubles will disappear.

A little zemo, the penetrating, satiating liquid, is all that is needed, for it banishes all skin eruptions and makes the skin soft, smooth and healthy.

THE GRAVEST RESPONSIBILITY.
The gravest responsibility resting upon the Democratic administration today is to protect the consuming public from the menace of food price manipulation. The conduct of the war is a big problem; raising money to finance it is another, but both these are only relative in their magnitude or importance to the nation when compared with the question of food production, distribution and cost to consumers.

Upon the authority of Secretary Houston of the Department of Agriculture, we have the information that during the past year the production of many crops was not below average.
From similar source comes the assertion that the exports of foodstuffs have not increased to such an extent that the rapidly advancing prices are due to this cause alone. Several reports, made by various agencies, of the available supplies of potatoes and other foods, have reported large stocks in many sections of the country.

In fact of these facts, which seem to have been fairly well established, the consuming public is forced to but one conclusion, and it is that groups and bands of food speculators have been waxing rich through buying incumulated vast supplies and selling them out to retail distributors at constantly advancing prices. "That these men," says the Johnstown Leader, "can continue to gouge the public is an indictment of the Wilson administration—an indictment of its policy of handing trusts and illegal food concerns. The Democratic administration for four years has had control of every department of the government. It has been in position to finance new laws where such laws were needed to remedy abutes. It has been able to prosecute illegal combinations, but it has not done so—that is, effectively.

"Here some time ago an announcement was made with a flourish that the administration proposed to go to the bottom of the high-cost-of-living problem and bring relief to the American people. But instead of lowering prices, the tendency is up and over upward. We are already paying wartime prices and we have scarcely entered the war.

"It is up to the Democratic administration to do its full duty in this food crisis. If it happens that there really is criminal price manipulation, the government should get after the guilty men at once. If necessary, it should use war-time 'strong-arm' techniques—but get the criminals that are profiting from the miseries of the people."

The country has begun to respond to the appeals for a larger planting of food crops with surprising readiness.
To secure a response as will insure an increase in production equal to the needs of our own country and the large part of Europe which we must feed for a year, there is the imperative necessity that the non-producing food sharks shall not be allowed to thrive in the sweat of other men's faces. If they are, and we ap-peach another winter with food prices uncontrolled and uncontrollable
in their upward flight, a crisis of grave import will confront the American nation within its own boundaries
than any that has yet arisen in our international relations.

RISING THE WAR TAX.

The committee appointed by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States to draw up a plan for financing the war, has presented its report.
To raise the $1,000,000,000 estimated by the Treasury Department as necessary to meet the expenses of the first year, the committee recommends an increase in individual income taxes to yield $400,000,000 through heavier super-taxes and decreased exemptions.
Additions to the present excise taxes to the present expense protection tax to provide $200,000,000 are recommended; also a 50 per cent increase in postage rates, good for $100,000,000; stamp taxes amounting to $250,000,000; custom duties to $100,000,000 additional and an additional of $50,000,000 in excise taxes.

A lowering of the income tax exemption to include incomes of $1,600 per annum would add materially to tax receipts from this source—the excess profits tax, if equitably distributed, may not be too drastic. An increase of 50 per cent in the rates for postage can be tolerated if the public is assured that Postmaster General Burleson is to be prevented from using it for experimental purposes, or for hiding deficits in his department.
We have come to expect stamp taxes in war time, although a Democratic Congress made us pay them in time of peace. If the increases in customs duties apply to manufactured products, and not mainly to raw materials, income from this source will be welcomed, except possibly by the ultra Free Trade Democrats. We can stand heavier excise taxes now that eighteen states have gone dry.

The committee's recommendations appear fair enough, on the whole. The chief danger by which American industry is confronted in the formulation of a war finance policy, is men of Congressman Kitchin's type, who believe that American business and industry should bear practically the whole cost of the war. If Mr. Kitchin, as chairman of the ways and means committee, can force some of his pet tax-raising schemes through Congress, Industrial America will be blot white, and the end of the war find it helpless against the government-supported industries of Europe with their cheap labor.

For almost four years past American manufacturers have been laboring under the double handicap of heavy taxes on production and no protection from foreign competition, except that imposed by war conditions. When the war finally enabled them to earn profits they were immediately subjected to an excess profits tax. If Congressmen Kitchin should have his way he would raise this tax to a point which would virtually compel industry to pay all the cost of the war. Mr. Kitchin ought to wrestle with this problem as earnestly, skilfully and prayerfully" as he had done when making up his mind to vote against a declaration of war with Germany.
Meantime his colleagues on the ways and means committee should prevent him having full swing with his tax measures unless he has seen far enough ahead to wisely provide against the collapse of our industries when the war ends.

MOBILIZING THE LOAFERS.
A correspondent of The Courier, whose timely communication appears on this page, has the right idea about a mobilization of the undesirable idle.

At this time, when the energy of all worthwhile citizens is being directed in extraordinary efforts to do all that they can in their several spheres of usefulness toward speeding up the work of preparing our country against the awful consequences of war and the world against a food famine, it is neither charity, good sense nor good business to permit an army of non-producing drones to live in idleness and upon the fruits of other men's labor.

Our country needs the labor of every man's hands. With our strong, willing youths enlisting in their country's service as soldiers everyone leaves behind him a vacancy in the ranks of the workers. While this place cannot be filled by a conscript from the army of the tramps and loafers, there are thousands of useful tasks to which these parasites upon society could be set at work. With the dire need of increasing the production of food stuffs, fuel, and the multitude of articles essential to our war preparedness and the maintenance and sustenance of our people no man, physically able, should be permitted to escape service in some useful capacity.
If our present laws are inadequate to meet such a condition, the obligation rests heavily upon Congress to enact not a selective—but a universal service conscription law that will draft every man, except the physically afflicted, decrepit and insane, into some productive occupation.

We are demanding of our industrious and useful citizens the full measure of their service. It is unfair to them and to our country if we do not require the idle and the useless to do their "bit," and a little more, in order to compensate for the long years through which they toiled not, neither did they spin.

Having been advised that Uniteon men have been slow to volunteer for military service we await with no little interest to hear of a rush of the high school boys who have been given permission to join the agricultural and mining corps of the County.
The country will be unpatriotic for the first time in the history of our war.

Hundreds of maligned Russian soldiers have demanded that they be good guys with the rest of the world knowing that their nation cannot pull a half-finished task.

How considerate Germany was of the outside world yesterday! She even stopped the key-hole to prevent the guilty men at once. If necessary, it should use war-time "strong-arm" techniques—but get the criminals that are
profiting from the miseries of the people."

The country has begun to respond to the appeals for a larger planting of
food crops with surprising readiness.
To secure a response as will insure
an increase in production equal to
the needs of our own country and
the large part of Europe which we
must feed for a year, there is the imperative necessity that the non-producing food sharks shall not be allowed
to thrive in the sweat of other men's faces. If they are, and we ap-
peach another winter with food
prices uncontrolled and uncontrollable
in their upward flight, a crisis of
grave import will confront the American nation within its own boundaries
than any that has yet arisen in our international relations.

MOBILIZE THE LOAFERS.

How Uncle Sam Can Make the Undesirable Idle Contribute to the Needs of the Country at This Time.

To the Editor of The Courier, Sir:

That it is in keeping with the best interests of the country to have a mobilization of the idle is self-evident. Conservation means that perhaps 2,000,000 of our idle-bodied men will be called to arms within the next two years. This means that Uncle Sam will have to find a place for each of these men, and a good one.

Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg says the world will be amazed by the peace terms he will have to offer tomorrow. Wrong again! Hollweg says the world will be amazed by the war terms he will offer to the United States.

Another Bacon Rebellion, Cannonsburg Notes.

An extensive call for all these 200,000 men and place them in mountain camps under army officers and physicians. In a space of two years we could have this number of undisciplined men transformed into good citizens, ready for the farm, factory and army service.

It seems inconsistent that this multitude of idle consumers should have to live on meat, milk, and other foodstuffs—meat, milk, and other foodstuffs—thousands of wives and mothers to toll to keep them while drinking up huge millions of barrels of grain.

Over one thousand farmers would be much more enthusiastic about releasing larger crops to feed soldiers, mothers and children if such a method of dealing with these classes of worthless citizens would be put into effect.
I have mentioned this plan to 100 industrious citizens in Western Pennsylvania and it met with hearty approval in every case.

Notice to Dealers.

J. P. Marlatt, Mayor of Connellsville.

To merchants and dealers of explosives:

It is highly desirable that steps be taken in this city to prevent the sale and display of fireworks during the continuance of the war. With this end in view, I hereby give notice that it is mandatory that any dealer in fireworks, on account of war time, shall be prohibited until the close of the war. The reasons for this action are that persons with evil intent might readily make use of fireworks, on account of the fact that they are explosives, and that the material and labor which are used in the manufacture of fireworks should be diverted to other and more useful purposes. Respectfully, R. MARIETTA, Mayor.

Ohio Gas Company Gains Decision

Public Utilities Commission Rules Favorably on Account of Great Hazard

(From Pittsburgh Gazette Times).

"The Ohio Public Utilities Commission in the appeals of the Ashtabula Gas Company against the 30-cent rate for natural gas fixed by the Councils of Ashtabula, Geneva and Conneaut, has held in favor of the company, declaring that because of the hazardous nature of the business of producing and distributing natural gas, corporations in this form of public service should have a return of not less than 10 per cent on their invested capital. In deciding the cases the commission fixed a rate of 34 cents a thousand cubic feet with a service charge of 20 cents a month per meter. In the decision the commission said: 'Those who engage in the venture of natural gas must get their money back within a few years or not at all, and those who enjoy the luxury must pay a sufficient sum to enable the producers to do so or capital will not be attracted to such ventures.'

Note:—This case is similar to that of the Fayette County Gas Company, against which complaint has been filed with the Pennsylvania Public Service Commission.

SUNSHINE.

Sunshine is a priceless commodity which is used to ripen the growing corn and also to sweeten the blossoms of fruit, to give vegetable silk and coarse lace threads. It is the most valuable asset of that patient housewife, the dry goods clerk, and is worth more to the management than the cost of the labor.

Sunshine is manufactured by the sun and distributed by people who absorb it before it strikes the ground and pours it around on the wings of a cottage, and some people do not realize that others are in it in the sun at the sick bed. A patient who has suffered from the influenza capsule and water-bug will often be returned to comparative health again after a few days of sunshine.

The most popular and costly form of winter climate is that which contains 98.4 per cent of sunshine. Sunbeams of this character are found in California on the Pacific coast, and are universally pursued by eastern tourists whose money is invested in bright-lit bunk stock. If California could bottle

You can verify Connellsville endorsement. Read this:

Henry Bowers, 1206 Vine St., says: "For twenty years, my kidneys were in bad shape. My greatest complaint was rheumatic pains and I was sick bed for several weeks. My back ached terribly at times and I was bothered by having to get up in the night to pass the kidney secretions. I used a lot of medicine, but nothing, but Doan's Kidney Pills helped me. They are all that I have been using for years, since I found out how good they are. It only takes a few doses of this remedy to give me relief."

CARROTS.

The advantage of deep spading and thorough advance preparation of the soil becomes apparent in the carrot bed, says today's garden lesson supplied by the National Emergency Food Garden Commission of Washington, which is co-operating with The Courier to urge the planting of gardens to safeguard against a food shortage this year in Connellsville.

The carrot root, which is the part eaten, tries to grow straight down into the soil. If it meets a stiff, packed subsoil a few inches down, it cannot penetrate it, and the root will either split or become otherwise misshapen and gnarled. Soil that has been worked, however, enables the carrot to grow shapely.

The carrot is an early crop and easily grown after it gets started. But the carrot seeds are small and the young plants are weak, so the seeds should not be planted deeply, a half inch being enough. It is necessary to keep a dirt crust from forming over the seeds after they are planted, so it becomes desirable to mix a few radish seeds in with the carrot seeds. The radishes grow quickly and not only mark the rows so that you can go over them with a garden rake and break up any crust, but also aid in breaking the crust and letting the tender carrot shoots come through.

One ounce of carrot seed is enough to sow 100 feet of row. They should be sown rather thickly together, and after the plants come up thinning by pulling out plants is not necessary unless they are crowded together. Small carrots have better flavor than large ones, so they can grow six or seven to the foot in the row without injury. Make the rows one foot apart.

The carrots is a slow grower, maturing in eight or 10 weeks after planting. A continuous supply of these can be guaranteed by making new plantings every three weeks or late as August 15, although in hot, dry weather they must be watered.

Carrots may be pulled while still small; begin when they are about half an inch in diameter at the top of the root.

As the trade in Nerv-Worth spreads into the outlying districts of this section, the good it has done moves its grateful users to write endorsements in behalf of the tonic, so that other sufferers may profit thereby. A late example to that effect was furnished by John Wilson, of Elizabeth, who, in a statement made to his McKeesport druggist, said of Nerv-Worth:

"It did me the most good of any medicine I ever took. My stomach has bothered me for years and one bottle (Nerv-Worth) cured me. It certainly is a fine medicine."

EXCURSION TO</

NEW MEXICO OUR GREATEST WARSHIP

With Simple Ceremonies Giant Sea Fighter Was Launched.

HAS TWELVE 14-INCH GUNS

Carries as Far as the Human Eye Can See, Although One of England's Vessels Is Carrying Fifteen Inch Guns—Burns Oil Exclusively and Equipped With Electric Drive.

When the super-dreadnaught New Mexico was launched in the New York navy yard the other day the biggest ship in the United States navy took to the waters. There was a marked difference this time from previous launchings at the navy yard. The last dreadnaught launched there was the Arizona in June, 1915, when thousands of invitations issued resulted in a multitude of spectators being on hand. This time the spectators were confined to the naval officers and the governor's party from New Mexico, numbering only about 300 instead of the 30,000 who saw the Arizona slip from the ways.

The Arizona is 608 feet long and of about 36,000 tons less displacement than the New Mexico. The New Mexico has the same armament, however, in her main battery, twelve fourteen-inch guns. Her speed is expected to be better than twenty-one knots.

There has been no disposition on the part of the navy department to conceal the facts about the new battleship, official announcement having been sent out giving the principal measurements of the ship and particulars as to her complement, etc.

Statistics of the Warship.

The principal dimensions of the new dreadnaught are as follows: Length, 624 feet; breadth, extreme, to outside of armor, 97 feet 4½ inches; displacement, 32,000 tons; mean draft, 30 feet.

Her armament consists of twelve fourteen-inch guns, twenty-two five-inch guns, four three-pounds, four anti-aircraft guns and two torpedo tubes. She will be manned by 86 officers and 1,141 men.

The New Mexico is a sister ship of the Mississippi, recently launched at the yards of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock company, and of the Idaho, still on the ways at the works of the New York Shipbuilding company at Camden, N. J. The keel of the New Mexico was laid on Oct. 14, 1915. Although her construction has been materially delayed, due to difficulty and delays in obtaining material and the scarcity of skilled labor, it is expected to finish her within the thirty-six months allowed by the contract. When launched she was about 97 per cent completed.

The navy yard is a busy place these days, with between 6,000 and 7,000 men employed. A short time after the launching of the New Mexico preparatory plans for the construction of the new super-dreadnaught Tennessee were begun. She will be still more powerful than the New Mexico.

The New Mexico will burn oil exclusively and will be the first battleship built by any nation equipped with the electric drive. This system of propulsion has been thoroughly tried out in service on the collier Jupiter and has proved extremely satisfactory.

It has been pointed out by naval critics that the main battery armament apparently is not as powerful as that of the Queen Elizabeth and other modern fighting ships of the British navy, but that an inch difference in the big gun caliber could not have an appreciable effect in a great sea fight.

Guns Shoot Far Enough.

It is admitted that the fifteen inch guns of the Queen Elizabeth have a greater range than the fourteen inch rifles of the New Mexico by something less than a mile. But according to naval experts the New Mexico's fourteen inch rifles will shoot as far as the spotter's range finders and the control officers can see, and when a battleship is engaged by the enemy at sea, what is the use of additional range when it is impossible to spot the shells as they fall or record hits when the aim is right?

Officers say the fourteen inch guns of the New Mexico will throw shells as far as the result of the shots can be noted. If this is true, they ask, what is the use of too much range during a naval engagement? The vessel armed with the heavier guns would have to come into range of the one-cylinder guns which shoot as far as the spotter can see.

The New Mexico will have a concentrated bow and stern fire of half of the guns brought to bear in her broadsides. When she fires a broadside it will cost about $12,000. The estimated expense of firing a fourteen inch rifle is $1,000.

The naval constructor in charge of the building of the New Mexico is Captain G. H. Rock. He has done his work during one of the busiest periods of American naval construction, and the New Mexico is regarded as one of the best examples of modern marine architecture ever devised.

Four Admiral Nathaniel R. Usher, commanding at the yard, made strict police regulations in connection with the launching, and no one who could not show proper credentials was allowed to approach within 100 feet of the navy yard gates.

FIVE YOUNG AMERICANS AND WHAT EACH NEEDS

Member of Vigilantes Prescribes For Men She Has Met Since Outbreak of War.

By ABBIE FARWELL BROWN of the Vigilantes.

I love peace, but this is a good war! Like all women, I hate war. But now I will talk enlargement, urge service, about war for the sake of peace!

I wish I could fight for the honor and safety of my country, to help bring back peace and justice to the world and confound brutal wickedness!

I have talked with five strong young men who have been hollering eagerly for war ever since the sinking of the Lusitania.

(With a pacifist I will not talk. He is a man of straw, a scarecrow.)

The first young man is a six foot miler, and he said: "Well, I would have wanted to serve, if only they had made war sooner upon a larger issue. Just wait now till I see my duty clearer. After all, I'm not quite sure!"

That young man needs imagination.

The second man is a round shoulder artist, and he said: "But look, I can serve my country best with my brain. Let the brawny common chaps get busy and defend us. Perhaps after that we'll need it!"

That young man needs discipline.

The third is a new-rich man growing stout. And he said: "Too bad! I've had no training, you know, or I'd make a good officer. But, of course, I can't grub in the ranks with those fellows. However, I'll pay for—" That young man needs discipline.

The fourth is a poor man of foreign extraction. And he said: "You see, I can't afford to risk my job. There must be plenty other fellows who like fighting and haven't any other jobs. Sure, they can get along without me. But, of course, if I have to go!"

That young man needs the American spirit.

The fifth man is a hearty, vital fellow whose ancestors fought to build up the state. And he said: "Oh, yes! I'm off! It's up to me to do my bit right now for my country, and the women and children, and you. I'm sick of those brute Prussians! They're a mob, a treacherous bunch. And suppose they get over here! O Lord! Hand me a gun, quick!"

That young man needs applause!

That young man needs love!

It will be dull here till he comes back.

WANTED, A BATTLE SONG; ONE WITH A PUNCH IN IT

Chance For Some Writer to "Put Over" Anthem That Will Stir United States Troops.

In the cabaret the yodelers are working their larynxes to death trying to "put a real one over." The critical critics drooped about the cafe tables hearten and remain unmoved. They rise for "The Star Spangled Banner," sober for "Dixie" and put their backs down for "America." But the whimsies about the assorted hearts of Maryland, Michigan, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Illinois leave them cold. The big song is still unborn, the song that will make the feet of the army tingle and the heart of it grow strong.

It is "Tipperary" that is credited with winning as many battles for the English as any of their generals. The French likewise have walked through the hall across No Man's Land with boulevard refrains on their lips.

"Something with a swing," said Captain F. R. Kenney of the regular army recruiting station in Chicago. "If I knew what I'd write it myself. There won't be any mistaking it when it comes, though. Everybody will know it's the song."

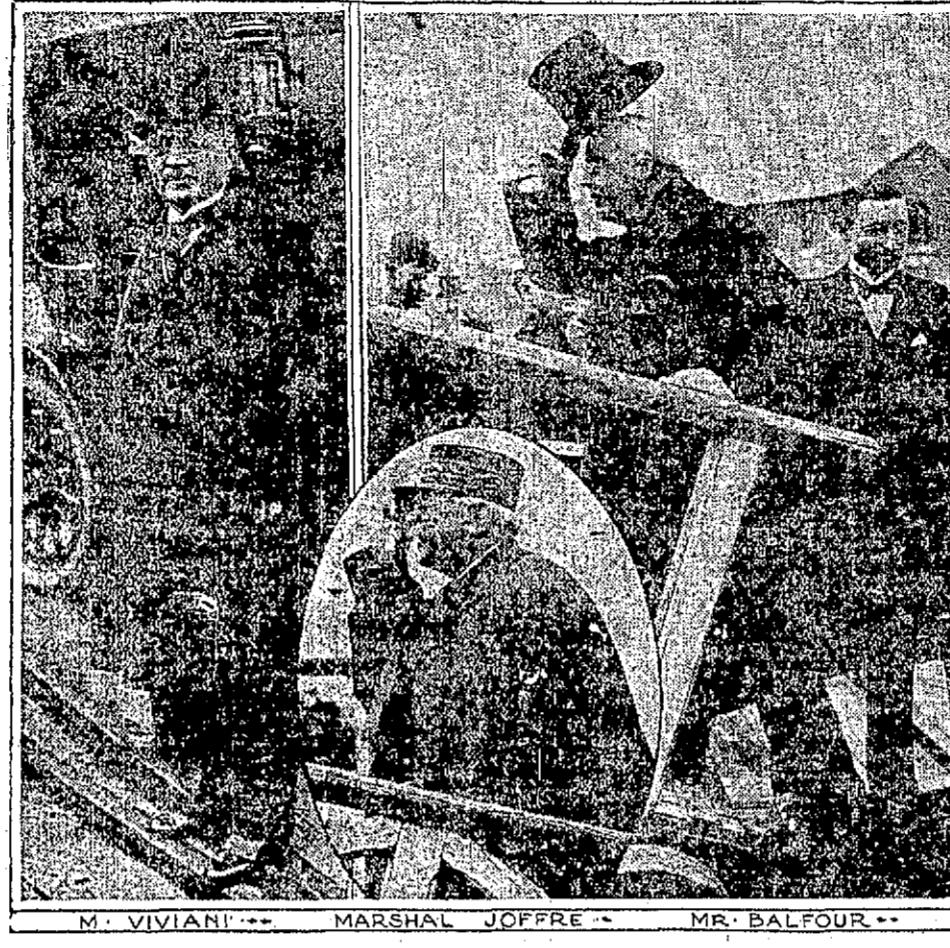

"Now is the time for every brass band here to come to the aid of the country," said another officer at the station. "We don't want any classical stuff or any old stuff. The old ads are still great, but this is a new war, and we want a new song."

The New Mexico will have a concentrated bow and stern fire of half of the guns brought to bear in her broadsides. When she fires a broadside it will cost about $12,000. The estimated expense of firing a fourteen inch rifle is $1,000.

INTERURBAN TRACTION SECURITIES

RANK HIGH AMONG SAFE INVESTMENTS

The far-sighted are keenly alive just now to two financial facts: First, the possibilities of good investments; second, the need of care in the selection of those offered. "Safety First" should be, and no doubt is, the controlling factor in deciding where and how to invest your hundred, or your thousand, or your ten thousand dollars.

THE JOHNSTOWN AND SOMERSET RAILWAY COMPANY offers an exceptionally good opportunity for shrewd, careful investors who wish to place their money where it will not only be safe and sure, but increase rapidly in value in the very near future.

The history of any Interurban Traction Company that was wisely projected, and properly handled, proves them to be among the best, and safest investment offered the public. An investigation of the absolute facts, and the big possibilities of the JOHNSTOWN AND SOMERSET RAILWAY COMPANY with its 36 miles of road running from Johnstown to Rockwood via Somerset, through rapidly developing coal fields, growing towns and boroughs, now devoid of transportation facilities and crying for relief, such an investigation must prove to the most skeptical that the securities offered by this company are the equal of any investment securities ever offered in the state.

Senreco
The double-service tooth paste, keeps teeth clean AND GUMS HEALTHY.

Keeping the gums healthy and the mouth sweet is very important to health; more teeth are lost through the loosening of the tissue that holds the teeth in place than from decay.

Dental science to-day demands that a tooth paste must keep the gums healthy as well as clean the teeth.

Senreco was formulated to meet this requirement. Hundreds of dentists are prescribing and using Senreco because they have found that it does measure up to that standard.

SENRECO IS A WONDERFUL CLEANSER.

In addition to its remedial properties Senreco is a wonderful cleanser: acts directly on the mucin film, the basis of tartar; leaves the mouth cool and clean-feeling. As some one has expressed it—Senreco gives one a new idea on mouth cleanliness.

Stirring Stories of the Sea

by Morgan Robertson

From the Royal Yard Down

A Stirring Tale of Love and Adventure on the Ocean

Copyright by the Century Company.

She did so. He pulled himself to the stern, slipped the lifebuoy over his head and into the boat, then, by a mighty exertion of all his strength, vaulted aboard with scalding ease and sat down on a thwart. He felt a strong inclination to laugh and tears, but repressed himself, for masculine hysterics would not do before this young woman. She came aft to the next thwart, and when he felt stancher he said:

"You have saved my life, Freda, but thanks are idle now, for your own is in danger. Give me the oars. We must get back to the ship."

She changed places with him, facing forward and said wearily but shipshape the oars. "So you want to get back?"

"Why, yes. Don't you? We are in an open boat."

"The wind is going down, and the seas do not break," she answered in the same weary voice. "It does not rain any more, and we will have the moon."

A glance around told him that she spoke truly. There was less pressure to the wind, and the seas rose and fell, sweeping past them like moving hills of oil. Moonlight shinning through thinning clouds faintly illuminated her face, and he saw the expressiveness weariness of her voice and a sad, dreamy look in her gray eyes.

"How did you get the dinghy down, Freda?" he asked. "And why did no one come with you?"

"Father was asleep, and the mate was incompetent. I had my revolver,

"Can you climb in alone, John?" she asked in an even voice.

and they backed the yards for me and threw the dinghy over. I had loosened the grates as you went about. I thought you would fall. Still, no one would come."

"And you came alone," he said in a broken voice. "And pulled this boat to windward in this sea. You are wonder."

"I saw you catch the lifebuoy. Why did you fall? You were cautioned."

"I forgot the foot rope. I was thinking of you."

"You are like the mate. He forgot the foot rope all day because he was thinking of me. I should have gone astern and seized it myself."

"There was no reproach or sarcasm in the tired voice. She had simply made an assertion.

"Why are you at sea, before the last, a man of your talents?"

"It was foolish, he knew, but the word "man" sent a thrill through him. "To please you if I may, to cultivate what you did not find in me."

"Yes, I knew. When you came on board I knew it. But you might have spoken to me."

There was reticence in the tone now, and the soul of the man rejoiced. The woman in her was asserting herself.

"Miss Folsom," he answered warmly, "I could not. You had made it impossible. It was your right, your duty, if you wished it. But you ignored my existence."

"I was testing you. I am glad now, Mr. Owen."

The reticence was gone, but there was something chilling in this answer.

"Can you see the ship?" he asked after a moment's silence. "The moonlight is stronger."

"We will not reach her. They have sinned away. The mate had the deck, and father is asleep."

"And left you in an open boat?" he answered angrily.

"He knew I was with you."

What was irrelevant in this explanation of the mate's conduct escaped him at the time. The full moon had emerged from behind the racing clouds, and it brightened her face, flushed by the tangled hair and yellow sou'wester, to an unearthly beauty that he had never seen before. He wondered at it, and for a moment a grisly thought crossed his mind that this was not life, but death; that he had died in the life, and to some manner the girl had followed.

She was standing erect, her lithe figure swaying to the boat's motion, and pointing to leeward, while the moonlit face was now sweetened by the smile of a happy child. He stood up and looked where she pointed, but saw nothing and seated himself to look at her.

"See!" she exclaimed gleefully. "They have hauled out the spanker and are sheeting home the royal. I will never be married! I will never be married!"

launched upside down on the house, hid him from view.

The girl approached the man at the wheel.

"I saw you fall, Mr. Owen," she said in a trembling voice, "and I could not help screaming. Were you hurt much?"

"No, Miss Folsom," he answered in a low though not a steady tone, "but I was sadly disappointed."

"I confess I was nervous—very nervous—when you went ashore," she said, "and I cleared away the lifebuoy. Then, when you fell, it slipped out of my hand and went overboard. Mr. Adams scolded me. Wasn't it ridiculous?" There were tears and laughter in the speech.

"Not at all," he said gravely. "It saved my life, for which I thank you."

"How—why?"

"Who in Sam Hill's been casting off these grim lashings?" growled the voice of the mate behind the dray.

The girl uttered hysterically and stepped beside Owen at the wheel, where she parted the moving spokes, pretending to assist him in steering.

"Miss Freda," said the officer sternly as he came around the corner of the house, "I must ask you plainly to let things alone. And another thing, please, don't talk to the man at the wheel."

"Will you please mind your own business?" she almost screamed, and then, crying and laughing together,

"Will you please mind your own business?" she almost screamed.

"If you paid as much attention to your work as you do to—no, the men wouldn't fall from aloft on account of rotten foot ropes."

The abused officer went forward, grumbling about "discipline" and "men aboard ship." When he was well out of sight in the darkness the girl turned suddenly, passed both arms around Owen's neck, exerted a very slight pressure, patted him playfully on the shoulder as she withdrew them and sped down the companionway.

He steered a wild course during that trice and well deserved the profane epithet which he received from the mate.

The next Morgan Robertson story will be "The Last Battleship."

MORGAN ROBERT ON.

The Amazing Story of a Literary Genius.

Morgan Robertson was more than a genius of American literature. He was the twelve mystery of his time. An unlettered sailor, he grinded at the grammarian and wrote "Shanty Peas," a marvel of precise English and inimitable style; saved by the subtleties of long division, he nevertheless suited at the savants, solved problems in a few weeks with which they had struggled vainly for years and invented his improved periscope for submarines.

Fourteen years before the icy waters of the north Atlantic closed over the steel rippled, dying "Titanic" Morgan Robertson in his story, "The Wreck of the Titan," written in 1898, prophesied the greatest of ocean disasters with uncanny, almost unbelievable faithfulness. When originally offered to a big magazine the story was refused as improbable.

A few years ago statesmen laughed at the thought of a world war. Ten years ago Morgan Robertson was writing vivid, dramatic stories of sea battles that paralleled with astonishing accuracy the conflicts that are meagerly described to us today.

This great writer had seen the potential possibilities of death and destruction in those undersea horrors we know today as submarines.

He prophesied then the great sailing fogs as represented today by our dreadnaughts, and he painted with master strokes the startling picture of the dread Whitehead torpedo on its mission of destruction.

Finds Relief in "Needling."

For ages one of the customs of Chinese physicians has been to thrust fine needles into the body to let out pains and various maladies, and it appears that bleeding in this way is often really useful. After long observation in China, Dr. James Cantlie reports himself so much impressed with the results that he has adopted the procedure himself for certain cases. Needling seems to lessen the tension in the injured part and to relieve neuralgic and rheumatic pains, swelling and stiffness from sprains and fractures, and especially the indefinite hip pains usually called sciatica.

Clip Flower Stems Daily.

To keep cut flowers in good condition clip the stems a little daily. The pores at the end of the stem are apt to clog, and by clipping them it allows the pores to reopen, and the flower will be refreshed by the water it receives.

It must also be borne in mind that all strings or bindings as well as wires should be removed so that there will be no obstruction in the way of the water reaching the blossom itself. If you value your cut flowers and desire to have them with you as long as possible, under no condition allow the direct rays of the sun to shine on them.

What He Would Say.

"Would you say that woman over there is lonely?"

"Well, I wouldn't put it as bluntly as that. But I will say that she ever marries everybody will accuse the man of taking her for her money."—Detroit Free

THEY WERE ALL INSANE.

Even the Expert Witness Himself Must Have Been Pretty Mad.

Dr. Allen McLane Hamilton, in his "Recollections of an Alienist," relates the following incident which occurred in an Italian murder trial in which he appeared for the state:

The defense was based on the shape of the murderer's head, and much testimony had been given by an authority, a craniologist and craniologist in regard to the shortness of the head of the man on trial.

So improbable was the testimony of the lead "expert" that Dr. Hamilton, during the noon recess, went to a hat-ter and secured several conformatory tracings, which he gave to the district attorney.

"Doctor, extreme length of the head is also a stigma of insanity, is it not?" asked the district attorney.

The quack assented.

The district attorney showed him the tracings and asked his opinion of them. The fellow examined them and declared that the persons from whom they were taken were undoubtedly insane.

"Well," said his merciless cross-examiner, "would it surprise you to know that the first series were taken from the head of William H. Vanderbilt and his sons and that the last is from the head of his son the Judge who presides in this case?"

It goes without saying that the witness' "expert" testimony was promptly ruled out.

HOW FAT FOLKS MAY BECOME SLIM

Be Moderate in Your Diet. Breathe Deeply! Try Oil of Kerosene.

Fat persons, particularly those from ten to sixty pounds above normal weight, will be interested to learn that they may easily reduce their weight without starvation diet or tiresome exercise.

If you are overeating, you are daily drawing on your reserves strength and are constantly lowering your vitality by eating more than you need. Do not impinge on your health or be a hindrance to any longer.

Surprising reports of weight reduction have been made in recent days' treatment. With proper reduction the flesh becomes firm, the skin smooth, and the general health improved. In fact, work seems easier and a lighter, more elastic feeling is a natural result of the whole treatment. It is a regeneration—that of looking and feeling young, simple, cheerful, active, alert and magnetic.

Oil of Kerosene is absolutely harmless and leaves no trace.

If you want to reduce ten to sixty pounds you should give this treatment a trial. You will probably find it is just what you need. Start on the road to longer life and happiness today!—Ad

ELIHU ROOT

In selecting Elihu Root for the very important post of commissioner to Russia, an appointment which Mr. Root has accepted, President Wilson expressed his determination to enlist the highest abilities he could find even if he had to leave his own party. Mr. Root is a Republican and a former secretary of state and secretary of war. For he felt of a separate peace between Germany and Russia, not only because it would release sixty divisions, or about 1,200,000 trained German troops, for use on the western front, but also because it would open up to Germany a vast source of supplies and foodstuffs. There is no possibility of estimating accurately just how much ground there is for fear of this event, because Russia is and probably must remain for some time an unknown quantity.
